New York, April 14.—Trading was rather sluggish the most of the day, transactions only slightly exceeding half a million shares. Local transportation shares continued prominent in the dealings, while the railways moved within narrow limits. The idea that Brookiyn Transit might benefit by some of the mooted electrical combinations made the stock in keen request. The stock sold "ex-the subscription rights" from 129 to 134%, closing at 134, against last night's 130. Among other strong specialties were Sugar, People's Gas, Continental Tobacco, Federal Steel, Rubber and Tennessee Coal, the two last named rising 3 and 6 points, respectively.

The railway list, although neglected most of the day, was strong in the late dealings.

Influences at work on sentiment were easy money, hopes of a favorable bank statement to-morrow and rather better-reports on wheat.

Mobile and Ohio advanced on small dealings on the belief that a deal was pending which would secure the road an entrance to Chicago over the St. Louis Short Line.

A number of brokers have secured large time loans, so as not to be forced to pay high rates for call loans in any possible squeeze in money. Transactions for foreign account were very small. In the final dealings the pressure against traction stock caused some recessions from the best prices, but the undertone was good.

To-day's bond market showed good breadth, and there was some good gains in issues which have of late obtained prominence in the market. Total sales, $3,600,000.

The Cotton Markets.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

New York, April 14.—The opening call developed a steady feeling for cotton futures, with prices one point lower to one higher; Liverpool cables being considered favorable in view of the promunced weakness developed here yesterday. Following the opening call there was a general advance of 263 points on covering by parties who had yesterday oversold themselves. The movement was facilitated by light foreign buying. Very soon, however, the market turned easier and declined 364 points from the top prices under a disposition to liquidate in view of the general favorable tenor of the crop and weather news. At the same time reports reaching here from Southern spot markets indicated a more or less general disposition to unload supplies of actual cotton, while spot buyers were inclined to retreat. Local sentiment became decidedly bearish, but selling was not active. Gradually the market became quieter, and during the afternoon the local contingent had the situation pretty much to themselves. At no time during the session, however, was there any broad speculative interest. The close was steady at unchanged prices to 3 points lower.
